

Did you know?

Norway's Fjord Horse

The Amazing Truth: The Fjord horse comes from the mountains of western Norway and is one of the oldest horse breeds in the world. Every Fjord horse has a dun coat, and most are a soft, sandy brown. Their thick manes have a dark stripe down the middle with light hair on each side. Fjord horses are calm, strong, and gentle, so people use them for riding, pulling carts, farm work, and therapy riding.

Horse Whisper: Owners often trim a Fjord horse's mane short so it stands straight up and shows off the dark stripe in the middle!

Color Challenge: With a grown-up, cut a strip of paper into a short fringe with safety scissors. Draw a dark stripe down the middle and stand it straight up like a Fjord horse's mane!

Get the whole book:
Amazing Horses: 60 Fascinating Facts
jessicabraidan.com/books/amazing-horses.html